PROCEEDINGS, October 6, 1995

THE COURT: State of Ohio versus Bobby Sheppard. This is a motion for what?

MR. HOEFLE: Judge, two motions, actually. I was appointed by Your Honor, Mr. Stidham also to represent the defendant in the appeal.

THE COURT: It's your motion. Use the podium.

MR. HOEFLE: Thank you.

THE COURT: You better move it over this way. Getting some weird static out of it. I believe that it is partly the location. Try that. Okay.

MR. HOEFLE: Thank you, Judge. Two motions before this Court. Mr. Ranz, who was Mr. Sheppard's trial counsel, filed a motion for new trial. then I filed a motion to re-sentence the defendant to life imprisonment.

Part of the reason for that is that under State v. Penix, since what happened here that we claim to be error is in the penalty phase, under Penix, there is no such thing as a new penalty trial, but that life in prison is the proper remedy as opposed to a new trial. So that is the reason for the second motion.

Also, that was necessitated and since the

1 case has been remanded here by the Court of 2 Appeals, I wanted to raise two other points while 3 this Court had jurisdiction to consider them, not 4 only to preclude any allegation later on that it 5 was waived by not raising it, but also to make the 6 record on it so that the Court of Appeals can 7 consider it all in one appeal.

8 The second prong being that the error was 9 committed in not merging two of the specifications,
10 and the third point being that the entire death 11 penalty statute is now unconstitutional in light of 12 the interpretation by the Supreme Court of 13 State v. Gumm, which I don't care to argue unless 14 you have a question. It's all set forth in the 15 memorandum.

16 THE COURT: No.

17 MR. HOEFLE: You're not about to reverse the 18 Supreme Court of Ohio.

19 THE COURT: I seldom do that. I did it once.
20 I have never tried it again.

21 MR. HOEFLE: I would invite you to do it
22 again. I don't expect it. Part of the problem I 23 found that I have in raising the objection in that 24 case is that now I'm bound to do it in every death 25 penalty case until the issue is resolved.

1 I also orally move to strike from Juror Fox's 2 testimony at the May 30th hearing which pre-dated 3 the motion for a new trial, I believe that was in 4 chambers, any and all questions and answers with 5 respect to how his contact with Miss Jones affected 6 the deliberations or the verdict of himself or any 7 other --

8 THE COURT: You want to strike that?

9 MR. HOEFLE: Yes, Rule 606 B.

10 THE COURT: And you represent whom now?

11 MR. HOEFLE: Sheppard.

12 THE COURT: Well, Sheppard's attorney asked
13 some of the questions.

14 MR. HOEFLE: Questions that I have a problem 15 with were initially asked by the Court, and then his 16 attorney followed up on this. This is not to say 17 that I ask the entire matter be stricken, but how 18 it affected the verdict in deliberation.

19 Reason is State v. Lane, which is a decision 20 that I provided the Court from our Court of 21 Appeals. Something similar happened in that case
22 where the bailiff during deliberations injected
23 himself improperly into the matter and the motion 24 for a new trial was filed.

25 Defense counsel in the course of that sought

1 to inquire of the juror who had testified about 2 what the bailiff had actually done, as to how the 3 bailiff's actions and words and gestures
4 contributed to her verdict and the affect that it
5 had on the deliberation. Prosecutors objected.
6 Trial court sustained that saying that it was not 7 proper, relying upon 606 B that held the trial
8 court was correct. That's not proper evidence 9 here.

10 Conclusion of all this though is that under 11 State v. King, which has been cited, it is 12 presumptively prejudicial when juror misconduct of 13 this sort occurs and it is the burden of the State 14 or the prevailing party to show that it was not 15 prejudicial, yet we get into Lane which is a later 16 case, same Court saying that you can't go into how 17 it affected the jury deliberations or the verdict.

18 Now, that's seemingly ambiguous because how 19 else could the State hope to prove that there was 20 no prejudice and you have got the two opposite 21 cases.

22 Really, the bottom line is you go back to the 23 construction of the statute, Rule 606 B in 24 particular. And 2901.04 A provides that these 25 rules, statutes, et cetera, must be construed most

1 strictly against the State and favorably for the 2 accused. Using that rule of construction, I don't 3 think the State has any way out of the horns of 4 this dilemma.

5 If the error that is presumed, yet the State
6 is unable to rebut it, the only really practical 7 way that it can, because Evidence Rule 606 B will 8 not let them ask the juror how did this affect your 9 deliberations, pardon me, how did this affect your 10 verdict.

11 Another factor is that a penalty jury doesn't 12 only make findings of fact as to whether or not the 13 mitigating factors or any mitigating factor exists.
14 Once it decides that one exists, it must weigh the 15 mitigating factors against the aggravating 16 circumstances.

17 I don't know how in the world, when at least 18 the inquiry that was done here could accurately 19 explore the effect that this had on the weighing 20 process.

21 I know that in the sentencing opinion it was 22 concluded that the juror must have concluded that 23 the mitigating factor was not proof, but we 24 respectfully submit that the verdict doesn't 25 necessarily lead to that conclusion because they

1 could have found it to exist, but that the 2 aggravating circumstances outweigh the mitigating 3 factors. The weight that's put on that fact by the 4 jurors could not help, by this juror, perhaps 5 others, could not help but be affected by the 6 impropriety that the juror committed.

7 The juror said that at page --

8 THE COURT: Do you want to -- are you going 9 to quote something that you want me to strike?

10 MR. HOEFLE: Well, this part --

11 THE COURT: That's all right. Appellate 12 courts do this.

13 MR. HOEFLE: Well, in a way, I might be a 14 little inconsistent here because Mr. Ranz asked "Can 15 you truthfully say that your conversation with her 16 or your need to call her did or did not enter into 17 your deliberation?" That part, as far as in the 18 deliberation, certainly should be stricken.

19 The juror said that "She didn't tell me 20 anything that I didn't know. I guess that it was 21 something like that I just needed to hear somebody 22 basically confirm what I thought already." So he 23 indicated that he needed this, needed this in order 24 to deliberate which this is not strikeable, and 25 then later, when he was asked whether he discussed

1 the testimony with other jurors, really Mr. Ranz
2 used the word "testimony," but I believe that we 3 understood that he means what Doctor Jones told 4 him. He may have. He was vague on that.

5 So there is really no way at this point of 6 measuring the affect that it had anyway even if you
7 do not strike it, and the King case that we cite 8 also, that was cited originally, it is important in 9 that case that the conviction was upheld, but in 10 that case, the impropriety of the juror was caught
11 during deliberations. That was where the foreman 12 of the jury called Mr. Namanworth, asked him about 13 the difference between murder and manslaughter.
14 Once he found out over the weekend, the jury was 15 deliberating, he called the Court immediately and 16 the trial court had the opportunity to set 17 everything straight which was done.

18 In this case, however, the verdict had 19 already been returned by the time that this was 20 discovered. It was after the jury made the death
21 verdict, so to that extent, the affirmance in King 22 cannot be used to uphold the general denial of the 23 motions here.

24 I don't think that I have anything to add.
25 If I may have a moment, I would ask Mr. Ranz a

1 question.

2 THE COURT: Are they all your motions?

3 MR. RANZ: One is his, one is mine. Mr.
4 Hoefle is going to argue both of them, Judge, for 5 the sake of brevity.

6 THE COURT: All right. Did you argue all 7 motions? Just making sure for the record that was 8 all of them.

9 MR. HOEFLE: Basically the motion to 10 re-sentence. Motion for a new trial is based upon 11 the same thing. Mr. Ranz wanted me to emphasize 12 that when Juror Fox came in, the Court's request or 13 order, and that it was I think prior to the filing 14 even of the motion for a new trial; was it not?
15 So that motion was not pending at the time.

16 Basic thrust of the motion for a new trial
17 and the motion that I filed to re-sentence with 18 respect to that issue is the same, basically that 19 there was juror misconduct and that it is 20 presumptively prejudicial error and that 606 B does 21 not permit the prosecution in trying to rebut that 22 presumption into how the juror actually felt about 23 it, what affect that it had on him, what affect 24 that it had on the deliberation of himself and 25 other jurors, what affect that it had on the 1 verdict. Thank you.

2 THE COURT: Mr. Prosecutor?

3 MR. PIEPMEIER: Thank you, Your Honor. Your 4 Honor, with regard to the motion for new trial, we 5 will stand by what we said in our response which is 6 it is up to the defense, their burden to show that 7 this misconduct material affected the defendant's 8 rights.

9 This week, Judge, I filed a response to the 10 affidavit filed by the defense after we had raised 11 the Aliunde rule, the defense filed an affidavit of 12 the psychologist indicating that she, indeed, had 13 contact with this juror, Steven Fox.

14 I have filed with the Court, and I would like 15 to file today a transcript of the testimony of 16 Doctor Smalldon which I gave to this psychologist, 17 asked her to review it. In response to some 18 questions, I have filed an affidavit wherein she 19 states that she has totally reviewed the testimony 20 of Doctor Smalldon. Nothing that she told the 21 juror in this case was inconsistent with anything
22 that Doctor Smalldon said. In fact, the little bit 23 that she told Steven Fox was totally consistent 24 with what the defendant's expert said.

25 In effect, Judge, this juror, if anything,

1 was seeking for some type of confirmation of what 2 this defense expert was saying was true. If anyone 3 has been prejudiced by this misconduct, it was the 4 State because we have this expert coming in here 5 for the defense that apparently this juror, for 6 some reason, wanted to verify what he was saying.
7 He turned to someone he knew, trusted, this Helen 8 Jones.

9 She basically told him the same thing this 10 expert was saying. So, in effect, if anyone was 11 prejudiced by this contact and by this misconduct, 12 it was the State of Ohio.

13 I have seen no showing by the defense that 14 they were the ones prejudiced by this conduct and,
15 again, I believe that it is their burden to show
16 that not only did this affect the outcome, it 17 materially affected the outcome.

18 I don't see how you can call this person,
19 this Juror Fox, ask him about this contact and not 20 go the next step, did it affect you. He clearly 21 states absolutely not, that it did nothing to 22 change my opinion. So, in effect, I believe that 23 there was not a showing for a need for a new trial.
24 I ask that you overrule that motion.

25 As far as the motion to re-sentence, I

1 believe that the defense is basically asking this 2 Court to now sit as a Court of Appeals and reverse
3 itself because of an alleged faulty instruction 4 that the Court gave to the jury for alleged 5 improper sentencing that the Court did. I do not 6 believe for one minute that the Court did anything 7 improper in this case.

8 I do not believe that even if you felt that 9 you did, and I don't think that you do, you would 10 at this point reverse a decision that you made some 11 months ago in this particular case.

12 I believe that the defense tried to 13 misconstrue the Gumm decision. In that decision, 14 which was unanimous, affirmed, the same position
15 that the Court took in this particular case.

16 It is defense counsel, Mr. Hoefle, is trying 17 to overrule the Supreme Court in this case and we 18 would ask this Court not to go along with that.

19 THE COURT: All right. Go ahead.

20 MR. PIEPMEIER: I referred in the affidavit
21 that I filed to State's Number 1, I did give a 22 complete copy of this transcript to Helen Jones, I 23 would like to now file it with the Court of 24 Appeals, this transcript.

25 THE COURT: All right. Okay.

1 MR. HOEFLE: We have no objection. We'll 2 accept that representation of Mr. Piepmeier as to 3 how he did this and that it was accurate.

4 THE COURT: Okay. Now, just a short
5 discussion. The Aliunde rule basically, I believe, 6 that there has to be some outside evidence to 7 impeach their verdict. Is that what it is,
8 basically?

9 MR. PIEPMEIER: Yes.

10 THE COURT: Well, since we now have outside 11 evidence to determine what the jury did, what was 12 wrong, at least in retrospect now with the Court 13 asking a juror the basis of the decision, you can't 14 do that unless there is some outside evidence of 15 the fact.

16 Now here, the outside evidence came a little 17 after the conversation, but nonetheless, it seems 18 to me that you can't have it both ways, either side 19 can't have it both ways. And if you don't allow 20 the juror to testify, then the only evidence that 21 you have regarding how it may have affected the 22 jury is that testimony of this psychiatrist friend 23 who said that she didn't tell him anything that he 24 was not already told. That was stuff that was 25 favorable to the defendant.

1 If we say that the Aliunde rule doesn't apply 2 because we have the evidence from the psychiatrist, 3 we have both her statement which shows that there 4 was no harm done by what she said. In fact, if 5 anything, it was a little favorable to the 6 defendant. Secondly, the juror's own statement, in 7 addition of which the evidence in the case was 8 absolutely overwhelming and the crime is absolutely 9 horrendous. And I will overrule both motions.

10 MR. PIEPMEIER: Thank you, Judge.

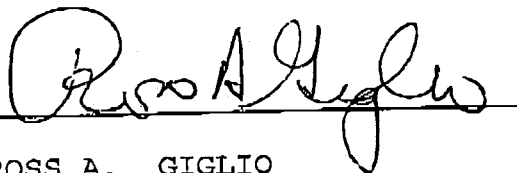

11 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.
